OUR

Educational Service Bureau

HOW IT CAN HELP OUR READERS, and HOW IT DIFFERS FROM OTHER SCHOOL BUREAUS

THE average reader of Who's Who in New York has neither time nor patience to wade through a mass of school catalogues in order to find the school that is best adapted to his needs.

Ordinarily, when a parent applies to a school information bureau for a school, he is swamped with applications in print, in typewritten form, and in person, made by many schools that could not possibly interest him.

This is because school bureaus are generally conducted by people who are not trained and experienced educators. Their policy is to give the names of inquirers to many schools, in the hope that someone will be found suitable, and that that school will credit the bureau with the securing for it of one enrollment.

Right here our bureau draws a very close line.

NOT OVER THREE SCHOOLS are brought to the attention of one inquirer; when the inquiry is made sufficiently definite, only one.

Suggestions regarding schools are made by our bureau only after a very definite correspondence, conducted by our Educational Director, Mr. A. von W. Leslie, lately Head Master of the Blake School, in New York. Mr. Leslie has had eighteen years' experience as an educator of both boys and girls. His work, particularly that done in connection with the Blake Summer School brought him into somewhat intimate relationship with a great many of the leading schools in the East.

The object of the correspondence referred to above is to secure from the parent data which will eliminate from the field of his choice all schools that would not interest him, and to find the one that would do so most largely.

We wish to know the parent's limitations as to rates, location of school, type of school, and what may be the individual needs of the pupil.

The advertisements of a number of schools and teachers will be found scattered through the pages of this book. Most of these schools have been personally visited by Mr. Leslie and he is acquainted with the men who conduct them. It is hard to write the advertisement of a school so as to give any true idea of its standards, its ideals and its atmosphere. These are matters which a trained educator can get hold of more readily than the average parent.

We therefore suggest that our readers give careful scrutiny to our educational directory, and correspond with a few of those institutions the advertisements of which interest them. If this seems to entail too much loss of time or annoyance, put your problems squarely, frankly and fully up to us, so that we can help you out. Our service is absolutely free of charge.

PREFACE

THE Sixth Biennial Edition of Who's Who in New York City and State is herewith presented with confidence that it will meet with a welcome even more wide and general than that accorded to its predecessor in 1911. The lapse of one year in the issuance of this publication was caused by the unfortunate death of its late editor, Mr. Louis R. Hamersly.

The processes of addition and elimination have both been invoked to give the present volume a more thoroughly representative character. As a work of reference to biographical statistics of a single State, it is unique in its comprehensive completeness. It not alone treats with men of importance who live in the State of New York, but also those from other States who, by commercial or social affiliation, are closely connected with the metropolis.

While it is possible to criticise any compilation of this kind on the ground that certain individuals are included or excluded, we have taken great pains to make this volume less open to such criticism. Great care has been exerted to obtain accurate and dependable information, and in almost every instance it has been procured at first hand, and by submission of proofs for correction errors have been as largely as possible avoided. The exacting standard by which we have heretofore been governed in the selection and acceptance of names has been maintained, and we feel that this volume has an added value, not alone on account of its handsomer binding and more legible print, but for its thoroughness in covering the field.

Who's Who in New York is recognized as one of the most requisite units in reference and home libraries. The condensed form of the salient items of the thousands of prominent citizens of the State, who are at the front of its activities, makes it an invaluable book of reference for the banker, the newspaper, the club, the hotel and the merchant all over the world. Omissions there are, of course. There are some from whom or about whom no data could be procured after persistent effort, and perhaps some have been overlooked. In some instances we may have included those who would better have been omitted, but such cases amongst the many thousands of subjects are unavoidable, and looked at in bulk, it is safe to assert that the book is open to little criticism as to its subjects. We would ask our subscribers in case the omission of names is noticeable that such names be sent to us for future inclusion. It is the desire of the editorial staff to make this book complete, and suggestions will be very gladly received and acted upon.

The purpose of the book is essentially for reference, compiled upon honest lines. No one has been included or excluded on the ground of willingness or unwillingness to purchase the book. It is used in libraries, by writers, by newspapers and by merchants and bankers in all the ways which such a publication can be utilized. Its data form the daily source of biographical reference in the press, both at home and abroad, and it is constantly quoted in the editorials of the leading newspapers, and for casual reference to complete biographies and obituaries its resources are constantly drawn upon. In the home circle it is a valuable auxiliary to conversation and to study. It puts the individual in intimate touch with the antecedents and career of the notables of the State, from the most intellectual to the successful man or woman in business or leisure, and it has a source of useful information not to found elsewhere.

Its presence in foreign consular offices, foreign hotels, clubs, transatlantic express steamships makes this volume more or less international in character where it is used as a means of identification and reference.

In the advertising section we have listed a number of prominent houses which stand foremost in their lines, and in the school section we would call particular attention to our school bureau, the purpose of which is to assist the parent in a proper selection of a school without any charge or cost to him whatever.

We have endeavored to compile the histories and activities of statesmen and jurists, financiers, capitalists, leaders in commerce and manufacture, professional men, philosophers, philanthropists, scientists, educators, journalists, litterateurs, architects, engineers and inventors—in brief, the class of people about whom information is desired, and who are representative in every branch of worthy activity in the State.

The BARNARD SCHOOL for BOYS

L I F E
for the City Boy Explained in Catalogue of
The BARNARD
SCHOOL for BOYS

Formerly of Washington Heights, now overlooking Van Cortlandt Park Playground. Four minutes' walk from West 242d Street Broadway Subway Station. Also accessible by N. Y. Central or Trolley from Bronx, Yonkers and Mt. Vernon. The building just completed, perfectly appointed, open to sun and air on all sides.

With its semi-rural surroundings and its proximity to the playgrounds of that section, its plan is:

To take the boy off the street after school hours, also Saturdays, by giving him a playground in the open, and by exercising a wise and sympathetic supervision over all his time, both of study and of play;

Then to send him home in time for the evening meal, where home influence can supplement easily and naturally the work of the school;

To furnish at midday a wholesome hot dinner, prepared by an efficient cook and supervised by a dietitian;

To provide an afternoon study hour when lessons can be prepared for the next day.

The arrangement is such that the boys will go to and from school in the opposite direction from the crowds, the younger boys going in the company of a teacher.

Moses Brown School

Providence, R. I.

SETH K. GIFFORD, Ph.D., Principal

FOUNDED 1784

A school where thorough work is done, which offers a modern equipment and the very best facilities, and from which 20 students enter college yearly.

A heavy endowment makes possible a low tuition rate, while scholarship funds enable us to provide for a few boys of unusual merit whose means are limited.

The Principal gives his personal care to seeing that every boy does his best all the time.

THE LOWER SCHOOL DEPARTMENT for boys of 8 years and upward is entirely separate from the Upper School.

Very particular care is taken of these boys in their home life and sports, as well as in their school work.

TUITION, $500 PER YEAR.

DAY, JOSEPH P.

Real estate broker, auctioneer, agent and dealer; b. N. Y. City, Sept. 22, 1873; s. John W. and Catherine A. (Hayes) Day; ed. public schs., N. Y. City; m. N. Y. City, June 1, 1898, Pauline M. Pope (g.-d. late J. Monroe Taylor); children: Joseph P., Jr., Bernard Pope, Charles Pope, Pauline Pope, Laura Pope, Fairfield Pope. After completing sch. course, became interested in real estate and at age of 21 established himself in real estate and ins. business. In 1898 negotiated heaviest accident policy ever written, covering ins. against accidents resulting from change of motive power of Third Av. surface railroad, and of 42d St., Manhattanville & St. Nicholas Av. R. R. In recent years prominent in sale of real estate at auction; is recognized leader in this country. Revoluntionized selling of real estate, and in past five years has done more to increase its productiveness than any other man in his profession. In May, 1908, sold over 2,000 lots in six of most successful lot sales ever held in N. Y. City. This was remarkable, because it was accomplished at time of great stringency in money market, and when majority of real estate interests said that it could not be successfully done. Was auctioneer in now famous Ogden Estate sale (4 days' sale), comprising 1,500 lots in West Bronx, between Highbridge and Washington Bridge, and largest absolute partition sale of city real estate of lots in history of the country; also auctioneer of Doherty Estate holdings, comprising property on Broadway and 8th Av., Manhattan, which brought $1,913,60) in a single afternoon's sale. Within past year conducted three record absolute auction sales of unimproved property in N. Y. City; The Van Cortlandt Estate, 719 lots, sold for $1,447,385; Forster-Schmidt Estates, 462 lots, for $599,275; Morris Park Estates (conducted by order of State of N. Y. Banking Dep't), 3,071 lots, for $3,779,750. Conducts many large out-of-town sales over the country, the latest, being estate of R. G. Dun, Dunmere, at Narragansett Pier, R. I. In three years, ending Dec. 31, 1909, sold at auction more than $100,000,000 worth of real estate in and around Greater N. Y. In year ending June 1, 1910, sold $81,000,000 worth of real estate, which is the record for any one year. Has charge of many exec's sales and appraisals and other matters pertaining to N. Y. real estate, in which is recognized as one of the foremost experts on values. In sale of property and stock of Third Av. R. R. of N. Y. City, was appt'd auctioneer, and sold railroad, March 1, 1910, for $26,000,000, largest auction sale on record. Among recent successful sales, most notable was that of Yerkes mansion, which brought $1,239,000 on April 20, 1910. Was pres. two terms Real Estate B'd of Brokers of N. Y.; mem. Chamber of Commerce City of N. Y.; Real Estate Auctioneers' Ass'n of N. Y.; Allied Real Estate Interest of State of N. Y.; Real Estate Exchange of L. I.; North Side B'd of Trade of Bronx; Westchester Co. Chamber of Commerce; dir. N. J.-N. Y. Real Estate Exchange. Mem. Friendly Sons of St. Patrick. Clubs: City, Manhattan, Nat. Arts, N. Y. The DeMeritte School

DAY AND BOARDING

For earnestness of purpose, thorough work and the character of its pupils, is attracting the attention of thoughtful parents, who wish their sons to accomplish something definite in life, and do it in a manly way. The same careful training is given to all boys. Specialty, preparation for the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The close contact with earnest men develops self-reliance and confidence in the pupil.

THE AIM OF THE SCHOOL IS not how many pupils it can get, but how well it can do its work of developing MEN.

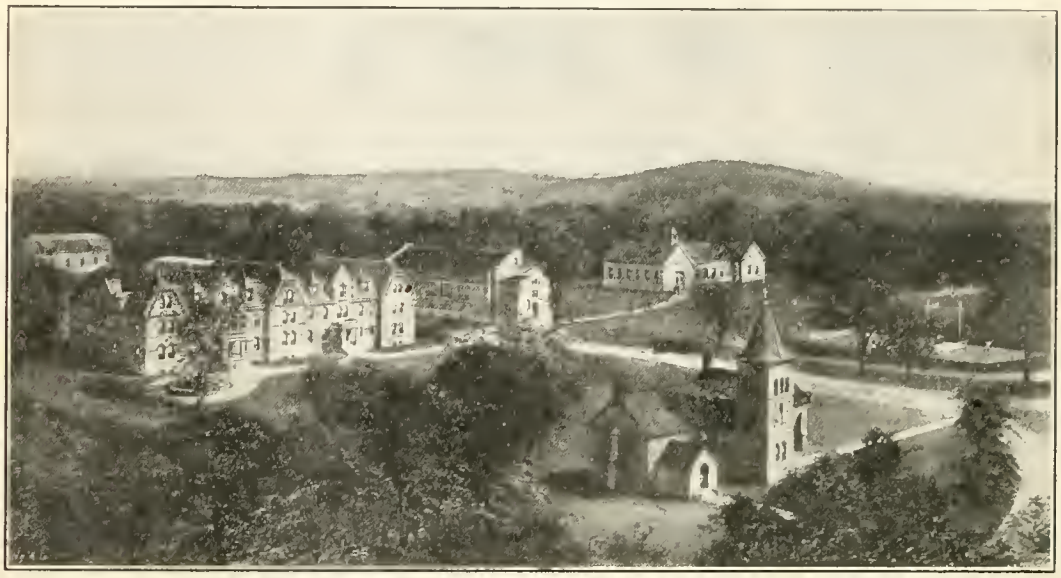
Holderness School

PLYMOUTH, NEW HAMPSHIRE



LOCATION—Holderness, N. H., one hundred twenty-five miles from Boston, among the foothills of the White Mountains; in the lake region of New Hampshire; six hundred feet above sea level; in the most healthful and picturesque part of New England.

EQUIPMENT—The main building, the chapel and the new gymnasium represent the best types of academic and ecclesiastical architecture. In addition to the boys' rooms and alcoves, there are in the main building an infirmary, a common-room, an assembly-room, a library and reading-room, the dining-room, and the masters' apartments.

The school house is a separate building and contains a study-hall and five recitation rooms.

The athletic field has a cinder running track, tennis courts, a football gridiron and a baseball field, with bleachers.

OBJECT—To prepare boys for college and scientific schools—especially for Trinity College and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; to develop the whole nature—body, mind, and spirit; to inspire and promote manly, Christian character.

ADMINISTRATION—Three courses of instruction cover five years and are administered by men of experience and culture. A physical director supervises all out-door sports and the gymnasium practice. Mutual confidence between the boys, the rector and the masters exists and is always encouraged, and individual attention is given to boys who need it.
